9.00 - 9.05	Welcome Acknowledgement of country
9.05 - 9.15	Prof Dr Catherine Crock AM - Host Introduction: Kindness works here In a world where technology is enabling rapid near unforeseeable changes we are losing our grip on the simple human interactive skills In Healthcare, we use the latest machines, research and training initiative but our people nurturing and hierarchical systems are 20 years behind. Our most valuable assets - our people - are under strain and threat.
9.15 - 9.35	Andrew Dempster Director, Health Human Aging KPMG Keynote: Investing to save - valuing the mental health of our workforce Insights and Incentives: While employers benefit directly from a mentally healthy workplace, most need further encouragement to undertake the investment. Mental health is still stigmatised by much of Australia and is often seen as a disability rather than a health issue. But mental health is also a distinctly personal issue experienced by one in five Australians every year and impacting many more.
