We have been leading the effort to improve healthcare culture with kindness for over two decades. Fostering a culture of kindness enhances collaboration among team members. This leads to a reduction in errors, improved staff safety, wellbeing and retention and ultimately improves quality and safety for patients and their families.

By becoming a Gathering of Kindness subscriber, your organisation will receive:

- Regular resource packs to support you and your team. These tried and tested resources provide facilitation guides, presentations and team exercises to embed the change

- Materials to support your internal communications

- Access to the Gathering of Kindness online presentations for all your staff during World Kindness Week 2023 (13 - 17 November)

- A Kit to support your organisation's World Kindness Week activities and in-house Gathering of Kindness event

- 20% all-staff discount for the in-person Gathering, Sunday 29 October, 2023 in Melbourne

- A 10% all-staff discount for the 2-Day Early Bird rate (available until 30 August) to the 2023 Institute for Healthcare Improvement / BMJ Safety and Quality Conference in Melbourne, taking advantage of Hush's new partnership with this important international event.

- On demand access to all Gathering of Kindness 2023 digital recordings for 12 months

- Year-round support and advice from our Gathering of Kindness team

- Creative content from the extensive Hush Foundation catalogue, including Hush Music, writing, poetry and more.
We know it works

Research shows that prioritising positive goals like kindness, safety and wellbeing for everyone leads to meaningful change. Focusing on positive aspirations creates a more optimistic and productive work environment and more successful solutions to complex issues such as bullying, burnout and poor culture.

“When we’re kind to each other, we open our bandwidth and we help people to perform at their very best. There’s a ton of evidence on that. Kindness pays. It pays for ourselves. It pays for our patients. And it pays for our teams and our organisations as well...boy, is it worth it.”

GoK 2022 presenter, Dr Chris Turner, Consultant in Emergency Medicine and advocate for Civility in Medicine, UK
